

WILLIAM EWART BEADLES

MASTER 2016-2017 The Worshipful Company of Founders

William Ewart Beadles, Bill, was born in Lanark Scotland spending his formative years growing up in Cheshire.

Following his graduation from Reading University, Bill pursued a career as a Chartered Surveyor in private practice. Initially he worked in Yorkshire but later spent thirty years in the City specialising in transactional investment and development work on behalf of various Pension Funds, Insurance and Multinational Industrial Companies.

Bill was, for 10 years, the managing partner of Howell Brooks & Partners LLP and is still a consultant to the Practice. He is a keen supporter of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors.

Bill has been a Liveryman since 1991, becoming a Warden in 2014, and was sworn in as Master in October 2016. He has served on numerous Founders' Committees, notably Property.

A lifelong Manchester City fan, Bill enjoys all sports especially playing competitive tennis and perhaps not quite so competitive golf.

He is married to Lesley, they have three grown up children and five young grandchildren who keep them very busy.
