

Master Needlemaker – Andrew S Whitton

Born in the West Midlands, I commenced my banking career with Midland Bank (now HSBC), moved to Rothschild's and then Hume Corporation in 1973, which became Arbuthnot Latham, Private Bankers, where I served as a director for some 11 years. I continue to look after the private affairs of a longstanding client.

In 1975 I joined the Honourable Artillery Company and becoming a Freeman of this great and ancient City in 1982. I became a liveryman of this company in 1997.

I am a member of the Guild of Freemen, City Livery Club, Royal Automobile Club, the Royal Society of St. George (City Branch), and the Ward Clubs of Aldgate and Cheap and am Hon. Secretary of The City Pickwick Club. I have been a Trustee of The English Schools Orchestra for the past 4 years.

My wife, Elizabeth, and I have been married for over 30 years and have 25 year old twins; Charlotte a doctor in Newcastle and Alexander managing a charity in Oxford.

Leisure interests include The City, reading, country pursuits, together with following rugby, cricket and historic motorsports - from a distance.
