MASTER MRS ANN BUXTON

Ann started her Pewterer career at the age of 21, when she was apprenticed to her father Paul Boggis-Rolfe (Master 1985-1986) who, sadly, died in office.

Ann was educated at St Mary's, Wantage. She won an open scholarship to Somerville College Oxford where she read Modern Languages, French and Italian.

After a short period with Lazards, in the fund management division, she took an MBA at INSEAD.

She held a range of roles in electronics, a training and headhunting organisation, and consultancy, spending the last 12 years of her career as CEO of Hardwicke Building, a Lincoln's Inn barristers' chambers.

Ann retired five years ago, and since then has been busy on a number of charity boards. She is chair of the Nelson Trust, a governor of The Barnwood Trust, and a trustee of the Bar Pro Bono Unit.

During her career as a Pewterer, Ann has chaired the Livery and Freedom Committee, and the Hall Management committee, where, with the support of the staff team, the committee oversaw the complete refurbishment of Pewterers' Hall.

Ann is married to Joe, a past clerk of the Clockmakers. They have three children, one of whom is a Pewterer liveryman, and another a Merchant Taylor. Ann is a beginner gardener, a fairly proficient birdwatcher, an avid reader, plays bridge, and has recently taken up gundog training with her cocker spaniel Lily, to keep the winter days occupied.
