

Master Tax Adviser

Kevin Thomas FCA CTA ATT BSc

Kevin is a Chartered Accountant, Chartered Tax Adviser and member of the Association of Tax Technicians. Kevin graduated with an honours degree in Mathematics and then trained as a general practice accountant and auditor. Upon qualifying as a Chartered Accountant, he took the tax exams of the Chartered Institute of Tax and moved into tax 1990.

Kevin trained with Essex based practice Bird Luckin and was appointed a partner in 1994. He remained with that practice, now called Rickard Luckin Limited, and sits on the Management, Tax, and IT committees.

In his tax professional role Kevin believes passionately that the business should plan ahead and seek quality help and guidance, thus realising in full their aims and ambitions. He specialises in helping owner managed business, the SME sector, sole traders, partnerships and individuals in areas such as Corporate and Personal Tax; VAT; Tax planning; Succession planning; International Services; Payroll; and Charity & Not-for-profit.

Kevin joined the Worshipful Company of Tax Advisers' in 2000 and became Treasurer and Court Assistant in 2008. He was Renter Warden in 2014/15 and Upper Warden in 2015/16 being installed as Master on 21 September 2016.

Kevin is a Trustee and Treasurer of TaxAid (UK) a charity dedicated to helping people on low incomes with tax problems who cannot afford to pay for expert advice and assistance. He is also Treasurer of a number of associations covering such topics as politics, help for young disadvantaged children, and historical sites.

Besides the livery company and his keen interest in the City of London, Kevin is a keen traveller, walker, runner, swimmer, and cyclist. Having run a number of marathons, in 2016 he widened the challenge and has since taken part in a number of triathlons. His latest project is to walk the 630 mile South West Coastal path. Kevin is married with two children.
